Reasons for Allowance

1. Claims 16-32 are allowed.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

While Benton (U.S. Patent No. 5,611,059) discloses a user interface for a control structure comprising a controller, and physical devices coupled to the controller. The controller is adapted to control and monitor the physical devices. The user interface is coupled to the controller for displaying status conditions of the physical devices. The system includes a premade set of graphical symbols that are adapted to represent the physical devices where the graphical symbols are automatically linked between point of connections. Benton does not teach a device-independent technology object that is re-used or distributable on a plurality of physical devices; technology object that is functionally separate and apart from a device functionality; having commands that characterize and determine behavior of the technological object; and other limitations related to these features in combination with the remaining elements and features of the claimed invention.

And Engdahl (U.S. Patent No. 6,282,455) discloses a user interface that includes software objects used for component control means supplementing a control means of an industrial controller. The software objects are created representing machines in a factory floor, their status, their programming, and their data having a defined visual representation and three dimensional spatial coordinate. Engdahl does not disclose component control means implemented using a plurality of technology objects corresponding to the components; technology objects that are distributable on a plurality of devices making up the industrial controller; a device-independent technology object that is re-used or distributable on a plurality of physical devices; technological functionality separate and apart from a device functionality; and other limitations related to these features in combination with the remaining elements and features of the claimed invention.

The prior art of record fails to teach or fairly suggest to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention, in conjunction with all the other claimed limitations, an industrial controller having all the claimed features of applicant's instant invention, specifically including: a technological functionality independent of a plurality of devices that is distributable on a plurality of physical devices, the technological functionality does not depend on or separate and apart from a device functionality, having commands that characterize and determine behavior of the technological object, etc., as set forth in the claims.

Also, there is no motivation to combine the Benton reference with the Engdahl reference to meet these limitations. It is for these reasons that applicant's invention defines over the prior art of record.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
